Eyes Wide Open is not about sight or blindness, it is about vision. Our perspectives are limited by our past experiences, biases, and emotions. Lidsky shows us how to confront paralyzing fears, challenge our own assumptions and faulty leaps of logic, silence our inner critic, harness our strength, and live with open hearts and minds.

"Eyes Wide Open" comes very close to the true story of Charles Manson and the book "Helter Skelter". The main character, Russell Houvnanian is a very Manson like figure. He is obsessed with himself, has the ability to control people, uses music as a media to promote his philosophies, and predicts a coming catastrophic event.

What if, one day that blind person had the chance to see, or that person in acoma woke up thirty years later, what would they see, what would they feel? If they could see, would they even like what they see.
